

AFFIRM

Published on AFFIRM (<https://affirm.net.nz>)

Home > Are Young People Really Leaving Christianity?

Are Young People Really Leaving Christianity? ^[1]

Submitted by Max Scott on Fri, 25/11/2016 - 09:03

The following is part of an article that brings together research on young people leaving Christianity.

"Much has been written about both the illiteracy of teenage believers and the flight of young people from the Church. Many have observed this trend, and I too have witnessed it anecdotally as a youth pastor (and shamefully, I contributed to the trend for some time before I changed course). Some writers and Christian observers deny the flight of young people altogether, but the growing statistics should alarm us enough as Church leaders to do something about the dilemma. My hope in this post is to simply consolidate some of the research (many of the summaries are directly quoted) so you can decide for yourself. I'm going to organize the recent findings in a way that illuminates the problem:"

Read the full article,,, ^[2]

Reftagger

```
var refTagger = { settings: { bibleVersion: "ESV" } }; (function(d, t) { var g = d.createElement(t), s = d.getElementsByTagName(t)[0]; g.src = "//api.reftagger.com/v2/RefTagger.js";
s.parentNode.insertBefore(g, s); })(document, "script");
```

Powered by Drupal

Source URL: <https://affirm.net.nz/content/are-young-people-really-leaving-christianity>

Links

[1] <https://affirm.net.nz/content/are-young-people-really-leaving-christianity>

[2] <http://coldcasechristianity.com/2016/are-young-people-really-leaving-christianity/>